

Ronald G. Shaiko | RESEARCH ASSOC PROFESSOR

Academic Appointments

- > Senior Fellow
- > Associate Director, Curricular and Research Programs
- > Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences

Ronald G. Shaiko is a Senior Fellow and the Associate Director for Curricular and Research Programs at The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences. The 2022-2023 academic year marks his 36th year of university teaching and his 22nd year at Dartmouth College. Shaiko arrived at Dartmouth in September of 2001 and spent his first several years in the Department of Government. In September of 2005, he joined the Rockefeller Center in his current positions.

In November of 2007, he received the Linda '82 and Paul Gridley Faculty Fellow Award from the Dean of the College; the award recognizes exemplary faculty involvement outside of the classroom.

Prior to coming to Dartmouth, Professor Shaiko was the Fulbright Distinguished Chair in American Politics in the American Studies Center at the University of Warsaw in Poland during the 2000-2001 academic year.

Throughout the decade of the 1990s, Professor Shaiko taught at American University as an assistant professor and then tenured associate professor of government, where he founded and served as the academic director of the Lobbying Institute. During his ten years at American, Professor Shaiko served as an American Political Science Association Congressional Fellow in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1993-1994 and as a Democracy Fellow in the Center for Democracy and Governance at the United States Agency for International Development in 1998-1999.

During his more than three decades of teaching and research, he has received more than $1.4 million in grants, awards, and fellowships.

He holds a B.A. in political science and history from Ursinus College and an M.A. and Ph.D. in political science from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

American Politics; interest groups and lobbying, Congress, nonprofit organizations / Comparative Politics; democratization, social movements, interest groups and lobbying / Public Policy: policy process, policy analysis / Civic Engagement and Responsible Citizenship